Thames Voyces is a chamber choir based at South Hill Park Arts Centre in Bracknell, Berkshire, attracting choral singers and audiences from many miles around the area. We pursue a love of singing through a wide repertoire of choral works from early music through to the present day, whilst aspiring to reach the highest possible standards.

Come and join us

The choir rehearses on a Tuesday evening between 7:45pm and 9:45pm. We always welcome enquiries from potential new members, who are enthusiastic and confident singers. We are especially keen to welcome basses. Could that bass be you?

Our rehearsals, under the baton of Musical Director Nick Austin, focus on performance interpretation rather than on learning the notes, and are the highlight of the week for most members.

Come along and take part in a couple of rehearsals to see if you like us. After that, you would be asked to have a short audition (not scary at all!) with our Musical Director and a member of the committee. If they are happy we will formally invite you to join us.
